Conditions Elere.

The special missionaries appointed by the bureau of information and Church literature, are now ready for work. As stated in last evening's "News," the list comprises men and women of character, and such as are fully equipped for the duties of the new calling imposed upon them. Through their efforts it is expected much good will be accomplished, and it goes without saying that hereafter all visitors to this city will return to their homes with a much better understanding of conditions here than seems to be prevailing at the pres-

THE LATE B. Y. HAMPTON.

The funeral of the late Brigham Y. | hin, Joseph E. Taylor, John Wiseman Hampton was held this morning from the Thirteenth ward meeting house. The hall was filled by the friends of the deceased, who loved him in life and came to honor him in death. The services were of a very impressive nature and were presided over by Bishop Nelson A. Empey of the Thirteenth ward. There were people present from every section of the city, indicating the gen-eral esteem in which the deceased was held, and there were a large number of beautiful floral tributes. One piece conspicuous for its fragrance and beauty was contributed by the city fire department, the deceased being a mem-ber of the Veteran Volunteer firemen's association, and in his day one of the most valiant of fire fighters. The music was furnished by a quartet composed of Fred Graham, Mrs. Brown ing, H. S. Goddard, and the opening hymn was "Oh My Father." The invocation was offered by Elder Charles Livingston, and then the quartet sang the hymn. "Thou Dost Not Weep to Weep Alone."

The council then went into specia that B. Y. Hampton was an honest man of unswerving integrity and as a peace officer of Salt Lake City was a man of the highest heroism. Prests. Smith and Winder not only eulogized the deceased, but they praised his grey haired associates as officers of the city, most of whom had previ ously spoken.

Prest. Smith testified that he knew God had made man an immortal being, that He had implanted within the soul of man some God-given attributes that are imperishable. The speaker said that his father and mother had died but his love for them was as fervent and real as when they were living. Thi was because the affections that God had planted in his heart were immortal. It was absurd, declared he, to believe that God created man in His image, to nourish for a day then be cut down and moulder into dust, and pass away forever.

NYE'S STRONG PLEA

City Attorney Nye made a strong plea on behalf of the executive department of the city for the revocation of the license. He said he did not think the council should sit here one night in sanctimonious garb and pass a reslution ordering the enforcement of the Sunday liquor ordinance, and then, when an offender was convicted and brought before the council, refuse to revoke his license or take any action which would give encouragement to the that the police department would get evidence to convict other offenders. He

PROPERTY PASSED AROUND. Robertson House on East First South Transferred Back and Forth

For a conideration of $4,500, conveyance was made yesterday by Katherine C. Belcher to A. A. Robertson of the latter's home at 1072 east First South street, and the same property by another deed, was again conveyed to W. S. Ferris for $1, who gave to F. E. Mc-Gurrin and company a mortgage on the house and lot for $2,000. Robertson pur-chased the property a few years ago from the Wells-Pargo company, paying for it in installments out of his salary. At the time of his arrest, it is under-stood that he had paid about two-thirds of the amount. Ferris, it is said, has taken up the mortgage from the bank, and will hold the property in own name, perhaps in trust for Rob-
